Careers, jobs, employment, professions...

- Biomedical Science
  - This is the only HCPC approved degree in the city of Glasgow.

- Food Bioscience
  - Too many jobs, not enough graduates - according to government statistics there is a major shortage of scientists in the food industry - can you help?

- Nutrition & Dietetics
  - Scotland is the fattest nation in the developed world after America - how can you make a difference?

- Pharmacology, Microbiology or Molecular Biology?
  - Don’t decide now, try them all first by choosing one of these flexible degrees.

- Love Biology?
  - Combine it with psychology and sociology to study a degree ideal for a modern society.

Consider...

- A career in science
- Studying in Scotland’s most modern and dynamic university
- Gaining work experience - going on placement
- Being a hands-on scientist (approximately 50% of your time will be in a laboratory*)
- Developing lab skills actively sought by employers
- Engaging in research
- Having a degree that is recognised by industry, statutory and other regulatory bodies
- Pursuing a defined career path and earning a good salary after graduation
