Welcome

As Principal and Vice-Chancellor, I am delighted to welcome you to Glasgow Caledonian University (GCU), one of the UK’s most dynamic and innovative universities. I hope you will find this guide useful in planning an exciting new chapter in your life. Regardless of your background or where you are in your professional career, part-time study offers you invaluable opportunities to boost your potential. By choosing to study at GCU, you are giving yourself a competitive edge in whichever path you choose.

Each year, 17,000 students from more than 100 countries study at GCU. Our high quality learning and teaching environment offers award-winning facilities, unique study programmes and strong links with industry and the professions. Our part-time programmes are underpinned by pioneering professional partnerships and world-leading research that delivers practical benefits to society.

The University offers a wide range of undergraduate and postgraduate part-time programmes, with many flexible study options designed to complement the busy lives of our students. We are committed to lifelong learning, for individuals who want to keep up with developments in their field and for those entering higher education for the first time later in life.

Our vibrant campus at the heart of Glasgow city centre is host to a friendly university community, and offers the multi-award winning Saltire Centre Library, leading-edge technology, modern facilities and a vibrant students’ association.

We are committed to ensuring our graduates are global citizens with bright futures and our part-time programmes are designed to equip students with the skills and knowledge to excel in their careers. If you would like to further explore the opportunities available to you, please visit our website or get in touch with us. I look forward to welcoming you to Glasgow Caledonian University.

Professor Pamela Gillies CBE, Principal and Vice-Chancellor
Part-time study at GCU

Whether you are looking to boost your career prospects and earning potential, formalise your industry experience or simply further explore your interests, studying part-time allows you to balance your studies with all of the other things life demands of you, and maintain your income whilst you learn.

Work, financial pressures and family commitments mean that in many cases, full-time study just isn’t a practical option. That’s why at GCU we offer flexible, part-time study programmes at both undergraduate and postgraduate level, as well as a wide range of funding options to help you take the leap.

With our modern campus at the heart of Scotland’s largest and most cosmopolitan city, GCU offers a unique learning experience with the convenience of the city on its doorstep. Formed in 1993 with the merger of the Queen’s College Glasgow and Glasgow Polytechnic, we have established a strong reputation for providing relevant and forward-looking programmes valued highly by employers.

There are so many reasons for choosing to study part-time at GCU.

Career-focused programmes
With innovative and relevant programmes that offer professional accreditation and hands-on experience, it’s no wonder 94% of our graduates are in employment or further study within 6 months of graduating.
World-class facilities and innovative teaching
Our modern campus features high-tech facilities such as a virtual hospital, broadcasting suite, fashion factory, gaming labs and a virtual learning environment, GCU Learn. With fully-equipped health and fitness centre and multiple cafés, you can take some well-earned time out from your studies.

Award-winning student support
Our student support services are able to provide advice and guidance on everything from borrowing laptops to getting council tax rebates. If you are returning to education after a break, we’ll do all we can to help you adapt to university life.

Friendly, cosmopolitan, convenient campus
Our single-site campus is welcoming, personal and close-knit. You’ll be on first-name terms with your lecturers and our location is perfect for our students studying part-time, right in the heart of the city nearby all transport links. Welcoming students from all over the world, regardless of age, background and schooling, we provide a great opportunity to meet and make friends with a diverse group of new people.

World-leading applied research
Excellence in research underpins all of our academic programmes. Our research in the allied health professions was placed among the top 10 universities in the UK in the most recent 2008 Research Assessment Exercise, and our work in rehabilitation sciences was placed top in the UK. Our research in construction and the built environment was rated best in Scotland and in the top 20 in the UK.

Successful graduates
Our graduates are working all over the world for high-profile employers such as IBM, Ralph Lauren, BBC, Morgan Stanley, Siemens and the NHS. You can hear from a few of our brightest graduates at www.gcu.ac.uk/brighterfutures
Whether you are a business with staff training needs or an individual looking to develop your skills or retrain in something new and in demand, we offer a wide range of courses and specialist training, including professional accreditation.

At GCU, we work closely with industry partners to develop part-time professional development programmes that are relevant, flexible and add value to students and businesses alike.

Our high-tech Centre for Executive Education also offers seminar facilities, classrooms and conference space.

We offer accredited CPD programmes in a wide variety of specialised areas, including Accountancy, Human Resources, Nursing and ICT, and many of our courses can be provided on block release, part-time or distance learning basis.

Visit www.gcu.ac.uk/study/professionaldevelopment for more detailed and up-to-date information on the opportunities available.

If you would like to find out more about how your business can benefit from gaining access to GCU expertise, visit www.gcu.ac.uk/business
We are an accredited training academy and testing centre for a number of major vendors, including Cisco Systems, Microsoft (.NET Development & Server/Client), VMWare, Linux, EMC, Oracle and Sun.

Our lab facilities include a number of high specification computer suites, networking labs and sophisticated remote lab appliances providing distance learning in an online environment. Students can access e-learning material and complete lab based exercises using ‘real’ networking equipment and virtual desktops dedicated to the support of our vendor course offerings.

Part of the School of Engineering and Built Environment, we offer both individual learners and organisations a complete training package, including classroom taught courses (day release and evening), access to our highly successful ‘blended learning’ programme, a combination of in person and remote access instruction supported through a rich e-learning curriculum and remote lab appliances. We can also develop bespoke courses tailored to your specific requirements.

Visit www.gcu.ac.uk/ictacademy for more information.
Work based learning

The Scottish Centre for Work Based Learning offers flexible, career-focused programmes.

In addition to traditional academic programmes, GCU offers a range of flexible work based programmes.

Aimed at developing career-focused skills and knowledge, our Scottish Centre for Work Based Learning is a leading light in the provision of skills for work, at work and through work.

Our programmes allow you to pursue a high quality university qualification while continuing to advance in your career. They help you to integrate the operational and strategic challenges that you encounter in your professional life, through relevant work-based assessments.

We work creatively to develop bespoke education programmes and partnerships with industry, public sector organisations and intermediaries. If you are a large organisation, a Business Academy could be for you.

For individual learners we have many options up to Professional Doctorate level. For example, we have developed Work Based Learning modules to allow an HND holder to complete a BA degree, through linking academic studies to the challenges of the workplace within 12 months.
How does it work?

For organisations, we negotiate a Learning Contract that defines what the learners are intended to achieve in terms of knowledge, skills and understanding, as well as the time, place and pace of study.

Examples of current programmes:
- BA Business and Management Studies by Learning Contract for SSE and individual recruitment
- BSc Railway Operations Management by Learning Contract in partnership with the Institution of Railway Operators and Transnet Freight Rail
- MSc Leadership and Management of the Public Sector by Learning Contract with North and South Lanarkshire Councils
- MSc Leadership and Management in the Manufacturing Sector by Learning Contract with ClydeUnion/SPX
- MSc in Citizenship and Human Rights by Learning Contract in partnership with SCVO

Work based learning offers a flexible way to achieve a higher level of academic qualification to support career progression. It is also aimed at people who want to build their knowledge in areas that are clearly identified for development at work. Through Recognition of Prior Learning, work and managerial experience can often provide a strong starting point for a qualification.

Supporting your part-time studies

Balancing part-time study with your busy life is a rewarding, yet challenging experience. At GCU we understand this and are here to support you throughout your journey.

Accessible and welcoming
Particularly if you are a mature student, returning to study on a part-time basis can be daunting. At GCU we operate an open-door policy, so students can drop in to talk to academic or support staff without an appointment.

Our commitment to widening access also means we welcome students from all backgrounds and stages of life, all of whom are taking this step together. Many will also be facing similar challenges in balancing work or personal commitments with their studies.

Where possible, staff encourage group sessions both during and outside of class hours to ensure a supportive environment for your studies.

Saltire Centre
This award-winning building was described by The Guardian newspaper as "rewriting the design book for academic libraries". Its five floors feature the library, 1,800 study spaces, a student services mall and a learning café, with comfortable sofas for relaxing or group study.
The state-of-the-art library is open 7am – 11pm Monday through Friday and 9am -6pm at weekends, allowing part-time students to study at their leisure. It holds hundreds of thousands of books, e-books and journals in both print and electronic formats, and offers support from librarians specialising in your subject area.

Almost as soon as you join the University, you will be inducted into using the library and its IT facilities. You will be allocated your own email account and password for the University's virtual learning environment, GCU Learn, which allows you easy access to lecture timetables, accompanying notes and discussion forums.

IT facilities
There are around 400 computers in the Saltire Centre, as well as a wi-fi network, which means you can use your own laptop, smartphone or PDA throughout the building. In addition to this, there are 300 university notebooks that are available for use by everyone. Computer labs are available all over the campus and our Students’ Association computer lab is open 24 hours a day.

Learning Development Centres
In each school you’ll find a Learning Development Centre, which provides students with academic support in areas including academic writing, ICT skills and study skills. Some offer online resources for support out of office hours.

For more information on GCU learning resources and facilities, visit: www.gcu.ac.uk/theuniversity/universityfacilities or www.gcu.ac.uk/library

Global opportunities
GCU is an outward looking university with a graduate campus in London, many overseas partnerships and an increasing presence in the USA, South America, the Middle and Far East, as well as South East Asia. Our links with business and industry provide opportunities for not only work experience, but also international study exchanges and cultural visits.

Careers and employability
Throughout your university studies, you will be encouraged to think about your future progression and building a fulfilling and rewarding career.

GCU’s Careers Centre helps to support you in managing your own career development. You have access to a range of services to help you to improve your employability skills and shine in the local and international job market.

Childcare
The University provides a nursery service on campus which accepts children aged between six weeks and five years old. Students can apply to place their children there on receipt of an offer of a place on a university programme. Contact the Nursery Manager directly on 0141 332 7654 for information about fees, availability or any other question you might have.

Additional support
GCU is committed to creating an inclusive environment where all students are able to participate fully in university life. The University’s Positive Living and Disability Service offers invaluable information and advice to both applicants and students suffering the impact of an illness or impairment.

An accredited Needs Assessment Centre, it helps students in accessing additional services and facilities, recommends necessary adjustments to teaching and assessments and provides valuable support and counselling to students through troubled times in a confidential counselling setting.

Spiritual guidance is available on site in our Faith and Belief Centre, which is dedicated to the many faiths and beliefs of GCU students. The Centre offers quiet spaces for prayer and meditation, as well as a private room to consult a chaplain.

GCU has also been awarded the Buttle UK Quality Mark for care leavers in recognition of our work to recruit and support students who have spent part of their lives in care homes.

For more information on all GCU support services, visit: www.gcu.ac.uk/theuniversity/supportservices
Life on campus

From clubs and societies to sports facilities and accommodation, there are plenty of opportunities for part-time students to get involved in life at GCU.

Students’ Association
You can get your time at GCU off to a great start by getting involved in some of the many welcome events that take place early in the first trimester including a range of activities open to all new students, full-time and part-time.

As you might expect, GCUSA is run by elected students, who work with the University to ensure everyone has the best possible experience. And they’re also here to represent you, making sure that all students have a voice.

Caledonian Student Voice
The Student Voice is the main platform which enables students to tell the Association what they want, and is the body that holds elected officials to account. It meets six times across the academic year.

Clubs and societies
During your time here, why not join one or more of the dozens of clubs or societies available?

These range from faith based, such as the Christian Union and Caledonian University Muslim Students’ Association (CUMSA), to leisure activities such as baking, music and comedy. All are run by volunteers - so why not get involved? You could even decide to start your own.
Sports
Sports clubs are organised by GCU student volunteers, and offer a diverse range of activities, from badminton to hockey, Tae Kwon Do to surfing. There’s something for everyone, whether you’re a keen competitor or an absolute beginner.

For a full list of all clubs and societies, and information on how to join, visit: www.caledonianstudent.com/societies

Get involved
Volunteering is a great way to meet new people and add a valuable and rewarding experience to your CV. At GCU you could get involved with everything from welfare volunteering to working on one of GCUSA’s vibrant student media outlets; Radio Caley and ‘the Edit’ magazine, which are run entirely by students for students.

GCUSA Facilities
The GCUSA has a dedicated building on campus with a busy student social space, games room and cafe, as well as a 24 hour computer ‘lab’.

Arc
Open most weekdays from 7.30am - 8.30pm and 10.30am - 4pm at the weekends, Arc is a superbly equipped leisure facility on campus offering:
• Exercise classes including everything from BodyPump to circuit training
• Upper gym offering light weights, indoor bikes and cross trainers
• Downstairs gym aimed at intermediate and more advanced users
• Sports ranging from badminton to basketball
• Sports hall for club use ranging from fencing to karate
• Health and beauty treatments from sports massage to hairdressing.

Car parking and transport
Car parking is limited, but the city centre is well served by public transport, including buses, trains and the Subway.
Application and funding

You can apply for most of our part-time programmes online at www.gcu.ac.uk/study/applyonline.

Application
While you can apply for most of our part-time programmes online at www.gcu.ac.uk/study/applyonline, a small number of our programmes have different application procedures. Prospective students are advised to check the relevant course listing on our website for application procedures before applying.

Supporting documentation
Along with your application form we require supporting documents which allow us to make an accurate decision with regards to your eligibility, whilst also providing you with a fast and efficient response to your application.

Copies of certificates/transcripts for your completed qualifications
These can be scanned and emailed to us at ptugadmissions@gcu.ac.uk, but please ensure that you state your name and course applied for in the email.

Academic or employer reference
This is an important requirement for most programmes. We request that you submit a reference along with your application (not just the referees’ contact details). However, if this is not possible at the time of application and all other entry requirements are met, a reference may form part of your offer. If you are unsure, please contact us and we’ll be happy to advise.
Recognition of Prior Learning
Recognising that knowledge and skills can be acquired from a wide range of learning experiences, the University will consider admission to the programme on the basis of prior learning and/or prior experiential learning. Applicants to whom this is relevant are advised to enquire at an early stage regarding their particular circumstances.

Part-time research
Research application forms to undertake a part-time programme of research are available from the Graduate School: www.gcu.ac.uk/graduatecentre/students/forms. However, students wishing to undertake research should contact the relevant academic school directly in the first instance.

Financial assistance
Part-time students can apply to the Discretionary Fund for financial assistance towards study costs, travel and childcare whilst attending classes.

Our Student Funding team can provide a wealth of information about what funding you are entitled to, offer you advice if you are in financial difficulty, help you with childcare funding, part-time student fee grants, suitable trusts and charities. You can contact them on 0141 273 1376 or by emailing funding@gcu.ac.uk

Employer-sponsored students
We will contact your sponsor to request confirmation of the amount that they will pay and how they should be invoiced. In the event of a sponsor defaulting on payment, it is the student’s responsibility to pay the fees.

Part-time Fee Grant (PTFG)
If you are studying on a part-time undergraduate or postgraduate programme and complete at least 40 SCQF credits per academic year, you may be eligible for a Part-time Fee Grant.

For more information about the Part-time Fee Grant and details on eligibility and how to apply, please visit the SAAS web-site: www.saas.gov.uk/part_time

For full funding information, visit www.gcu.ac.uk/student/money
