

We hope you'll cherish your graduation brochure as a memento of today's celebration and of your time at Glasgow Caledonian University.

You can be assured that the brochure is fully recyclable, and is certified by both the Forest Stewardship Council and the Programme for the Endorsement of Forest Certification.

Our paper is just part of our commitment to becoming carbon neutral by 2040. Glasgow Caledonian is the only Scottish university to hold an EcoCampus Platinum award for our commitment to the environment. We're ranked first in Scotland for sustainability in the People and Planet league table and were Scotland's first Cycle Friendly Campus. We send virtually no waste to landfill, use a combined heat and power system to reduce our energy use, and have invested in greening our campus buildings.

Our Chancellor

Dr Anne-Marie Imafidon MBE HonFREng HonFBSA HonFIET, an inspirational trailblazer in business, maths and technology.

One of the UK's most influential women in tech and a leading advocate of diversifying talent in science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM), Dr Anne-Marie Imafidon MBE HonFREng HonFBSA HonFIET was appointed Chancellor of Glasgow Caledonian University in February 2024.

Dr Imafidon is a trailblazer in the fields of business, mathematics and technology, and has received a host of accolades. These include an MBE in 2017 for her services to young women and the STEM fields. She was named the UK IT Industry and British Computer Society's Young IT Professional of the Year in 2013, and, in 2020, the UK's Most Influential Woman in Tech by Computer Weekly, the same year she was appointed a NATO2030 Young Leader. In 2021 Dr Imafidon began a run as temporary Arithmetician for 60 episodes of Channel 4's Countdown, the world's longest-running game show.

As co-founder of the award-winning organisation Stemettes, Dr Imafidon has spearheaded initiatives to inspire the next generation of girls and young women in STEM careers, reaching more than 65,000 young people across the UK, Ireland and Europe.

Dr Imafidon chairs the UD Music Foundation, an Arts Council National Portfolio charity bringing communities together through music education, Black music and Black-music culture, and chairs the Institute for the Future of Work, an independent research and development body exploring how new technologies are transforming our working lives.

A sought-after presenter, keynote speaker and adviser, Dr Imafidon continues to make significant contributions to the advancement of women in technology, and, in 2022, wrote She's in CTRL, Transworld, a guide to women's empowerment through digital literacy.

Dr Imafidon is an honorary graduate of the University, though her remarkable learning journey also includes passing GCSEs at the age of 10, becoming the youngest girl to pass A-level computing at 11, and earning a Master's degree in Mathematics and Computer Science from the University of Oxford aged just 20. Dr Imafidon embodies our University Values: confidence, creativity, integrity and responsibility.

Graduation ceremony

Today's celebration is a blend of old and new traditions.

Above:

The first mace created in Scotland for a Scottish university in more than a century, the Caledonian Mace is carried by the Bedellus and symbolises our independence and authority to confer degrees.

Your graduation ceremony is a blend of centuries of academic history woven with the University's own traditions.

The ceremony draws together our community to mark the award of degrees or other achievements and celebrate your success with pride as you reach a milestone in your journey with us. It begins with the academic anthem, Gaudeamus Igitur (Let Us Rejoice), and graduands (students about to have their degrees conferred) and their guests stand as the academic procession enters. The procession usually includes our Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, Vice-Principals, senior staff, members of the University Court and Senate, distinguished honorary graduands and the Bedellus.

The Bedellus carries the Caledonian Mace - the symbol of our independence and authority to confer degrees. Ceremonial maces' roots can be traced to the Middle Ages when they would be used as weapons to protect the monarch and, subsequently, university leaders. Our richly decorated ceremonial Mace celebrates our motto, For the Common Weal, and was designed by The Glasgow School of Art and gifted by the universities of Glasgow and Strathclyde. The Mace was the first to be produced in Scotland for a Scottish university in more than 100 years.

Degrees are conferred, or awarded, by our Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor (our Principal and executive head of the University), or by our Chair of Court - our supreme governing body.

Our students are presented by the Dean, the most senior academic of each of our Schools, and are then capped - signifying that your degree has been awarded and you are now a graduate. The award given to each graduating student is based on the level of their study and their course (there's a guide to our degrees and the academic dress associated with them on the page opposite).

Alongside our own students, we also award honorary degrees to public figures who embody our Values in recognition of their outstanding achievements in their sphere. The ceremony usually closes with an address from the Principal and Vice-Chancellor.

Our College Connect Team delivers a dedicated service to help students transition from college to university, and the University's Caledonian Club helps local children, many from disadvantaged backgrounds, build life skills.

At heart, we are a civic university with a global outlook, dedicated to driving positive social change for current and future generations. In the 2024 Times Higher Education Impact Rankings, which assess universities against the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals, we ranked in the top 200 globally. Within this, we ranked first in Scotland for three goals - Gender Equality (3rd in the UK), Good Health and Wellbeing (4th in the UK), and Decent Work and Economic Growth (10th in the UK).

We are the only Scottish university with EcoCampus Platinum accreditation and were ranked first in Scotland for sustainability in the most recent People and Planet league table (2024).

Our research is addressing many of today's biggest global challenges. We are unsurpassed by any other Scottish modern university for the level of research (72%) considered to be world leading or internationally excellent. Our health research is surpassed only by King's College London for outstanding impact (REF2021).

The University's globally recognised researchers regularly advise governments, industry and international bodies on policy development and delivering impact. Research expertise spans three Schools (the School of Science and Engineering, the Glasgow School for Business and Society, and our School of Health and Life Sciences) and centres including the Research Centre for Health (ReaCH) and Yunus Centre for Social Business and Health.

Our close partnerships range from the Scottish Government, Public Health Scotland and NHS Scotland, to the Chambers of Commerce and Scottish Women in Technology. We have transnational partnerships in China, Oman, Nepal, Singapore, Malaysia, Mauritius and South Africa.

Our success as a globally connected university is demonstrated by the number of international students studying at our UK campuses. We achieved excellent results in the latest International Student Barometer, with 95% satisfaction ratings for learning experience and arrival experience, and 93% rating for happiness at Glasgow Caledonian. Our welcoming community of over 1,600 staff and nearly 23,000 students from 119 countries enjoy state-of-the-art facilities across each of our city centre campuses.

Guided by our values - integrity, responsibility, creativity and confidence - we work with others to transform the lives of our students and the communities we serve.

Your University

Glasgow Caledonian – the largest and leading modern university in Scotland – is a vibrant, values-led university with campuses in the heart of Glasgow and London.

With a strong commitment to high-quality education and research which supports the communities we serve, our partnerships with employers help students get the careers they dream of and deserve.

With a wide range of professionally accredited courses and links with over 300 industry partners, we are the top university in Scotland for students in employment and/or further study within 15 months of graduating at 92% - with 78% of graduates in highly skilled occupations (HESA 2025). We are Scotland's leading provider of Graduate Apprenticeships.

Named UK Modern University of the Year for Graduate Jobs in the latest Daily Mail University Guide, and the top-ranked UK modern university in the Times and Sunday Times Guide 2026, we are a UK top 40 university according to these highly regarded guides. We perform exceptionally at subject level too - as the leading university in the UK for physiotherapy and subjects allied to medicine, according to the latest Times and Sunday Times Guide.

Helping more young people from diverse backgrounds into university is something we are extremely passionate about. Scottish Funding Council figures highlighted that 23% of our Scottish full-time, first-degree entrants were drawn from the country's 20% most-disadvantaged backgrounds (SFC 2025). An independent economic impact report highlighted that Glasgow Caledonian is a valuable asset to the City of Glasgow, not only bringing economic and employment opportunities, but working to address the deep-rooted economic, social and health inequalities in the city (BiGGAR Economics).

Graduation robes

Glasgow Caledonian University's hoods and robes reflect the variety and diversity of our academic programmes.

The origins of today's academic dress – including the robe and hood worn by our students – can be traced back to medieval Europe's earliest universities when students adopted long, sober clothing to reflect their scholarly status. While every-day fashions have changed, the often flamboyantly coloured robes have remained an integral part of academic ceremonies – undoubtedly adding to the sense of occasion at graduation.

The introduction, in 2010, of the various richly hued graduation robes and hoods that are associated with each of our degrees was a landmark in our history and illustrates our pride in our past and present, and in our ambitions for the future. The coloured hoods associated with each degree – illustrated above – replaced the uniform academic dress that had remained unchanged since we were awarded university status in 1993 and celebrate the diversity of achievement of our 21st-century graduates who come from all over the world.

Members of our academic procession wear the academic dress associated with the university from which they graduated, creating the vibrant variety of colours you'll see at today's ceremony.

Leadership Speaker

Dr Tessa Hartmann CBE is an honorary graduate of Glasgow Caledonian University, President of its British School of Fashion in London, and Chair of the Fashion Advisory Board, helping shape the next generation of creative leaders.

For three decades, the Glaswegian-born branding and communications strategist has moved with deft assurance through fashion, lifestyle and entertainment PR - building reputations, curating influence and, in her words, "making the right noise in the right places."

Tessa founded the Scottish Fashion Awards, which for 12 years became a glittering fixture in the international style calendar. Her contribution to fashion and textiles was recognised in 2016 with a CBE in the Queen's 90th Birthday Honours list and an Honorary Doctorate from Glasgow Caledonian.

Her authority in brand management has made her a sought-after commentator for broadcast, print and digital media, serving as Fashion Editor at Large for The Herald and political commentator for The Sunday Times Scotland. A regular on radio and television, she navigates both the cultural and commercial sides of style with practised ease.

In May 2025, Tessa debuted HartiSWIM at Miami Swim Week to great acclaim. The label fuses luxury design with environmental responsibility, producing sustainable, wearable art. Each swimsuit is made from fabric woven with 13.1 recycled plastic bottles recovered from the ocean, turning marine waste into covetable statement pieces.

Yet it is Hartmann House Ltd, her boutique agency, that remains her enduring professional "baby". Discreet yet influential, it is the trusted choice for luxury brands seeking a personal touch. Hartmann House crafts stories and shapes impact - a marriage of creative flair and commercial acumen that has become her hallmark.

Having recovered from breast cancer in 2017, she serves as an Ambassador for Cancer Research UK. A trailblazer in every sense, she continues to prove that leadership, style and substance need never be mutually exclusive.
