Our Chancellor

Professor Anne-Marie Imafidon MBE HonFREng HonFBSA HonFIET

One of the UK's most influential women in tech and a leading advocate of diversifying talent in science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM), Professor Anne-Marie Imafidon MBE was appointed Chancellor of Glasgow Caledonian University in 2024.

Professor Imafidon is a trailblazer in the fields of business, mathematics and technology, and has received a host of accolades including an MBE in 2017 for her services to young women and the STEM fields. She was named the UK IT Industry and British Computer Society's Young IT Professional of the Year in 2013, and, in 2020, the UK's Most Influential Woman in Tech by Computer Weekly, the same year she was appointed a NATO2030 Young Leader. In 2021 she began a run as temporary Arithmetician for 60 episodes of Channel 4's Countdown, the world's longest-running game show.

As co-founder of the award-winning organisation Stemettes, Professor Imafidon has spearheaded initiatives to inspire the next generation of girls and young women in STEM careers, reaching more than 73,000 young people across the UK, and Europe.

Alongside Science, Innovation and Technology Secretary, The Rt Hon Liz Kendall MP, Professor Imafidon leads Women in Tech, a UK Government taskforce designed to ensure women "enter, stay in and lead" the country's technology sector, and she chairs the Institute for the Future of Work, an independent research and development body exploring how new technologies are transforming our working lives.

A sought-after presenter, keynote speaker and adviser, she continues to make significant contributions to the advancement of women in technology, and, in 2022, wrote She's in CTRL, Transworld, a guide to women's empowerment through digital literacy. Professor Imafidon is both Chancellor and Honorary Professor of the University, though her remarkable learning journey also includes passing GCSEs at the age of 10, becoming the youngest girl to pass A-level computing at 11, and earning a Master's degree in Mathematics and Computer Science from the University of Oxford aged just 20. Professor Imafidon embodies our University Values: confidence, creativity, integrity and responsibility.

Graduation ceremony

The celebration is a blend of old and new traditions.

Above:

The first mace created in Scotland for a Scottish university in more than a century, the Caledonian Mace is carried by the Bedellus and symbolises our independence and authority to confer degrees.

Your graduation ceremony is a blend of centuries of academic history woven with the University's own traditions.

The ceremony draws together our community to mark the award of degrees or other achievements and celebrate your success with pride as you reach a milestone in your journey with us. It begins with the academic anthem, Gaudeamus Igitur (Let Us Rejoice), and graduands (students about to have their degrees conferred) and their guests stand as the academic procession enters. The procession usually includes our Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, Vice-Principals, senior staff, members of the University Court and Senate, distinguished honorary graduands and the Bedellus.

The Bedellus carries the Caledonian Mace - the symbol of our independence and authority to confer degrees. Ceremonial maces' roots can be traced to the Middle Ages when they would be used as weapons to protect the monarch and, subsequently, university leaders. Our richly decorated ceremonial Mace celebrates our motto, For the Common Weal, and was designed by The Glasgow School of Art and gifted by the universities of Glasgow and Strathclyde. The Mace was the first to be produced in Scotland for a Scottish university in more than 100 years.

Degrees are conferred, or awarded, by our Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor (our Principal and executive head of the University), or by our Chair of Court - our supreme governing body.

Our students are presented by the Dean, the most senior academic of each of our Schools, and are then capped - signifying that your degree has been awarded and you are now a graduate. The award given to each graduating student is based on the level of their study and their course (there's a guide to our degrees and the academic dress associated with them on the page opposite).

Alongside our own students, we also award honorary degrees to public figures who embody our Values in recognition of their outstanding achievements in their sphere. The ceremony usually closes with an address from the Principal and Vice-Chancellor.

Graduation robes

Glasgow Caledonian University's hoods and robes reflect the variety and diversity of our academic programmes.

The origins of today's academic dress – including the robe and hood worn by our students – can be traced back to medieval Europe's earliest universities when students adopted long, sober clothing to reflect their scholarly status. While every-day fashions have changed, the often flamboyantly coloured robes have remained an integral part of academic ceremonies – undoubtedly adding to the sense of occasion at graduation.

The introduction, in 2010, of the various richly hued graduation robes and hoods that are associated with each of our degrees was a landmark in our history and illustrates our pride in our past and present, and in our ambitions for the future. The coloured hoods associated with each degree – illustrated above – replaced the uniform academic dress that had remained unchanged since we were awarded university status in 1993 and celebrate the diversity of achievement of our 21st-century graduates who come from all over the world.

Members of our academic procession wear the academic dress associated with the university from which they graduated, creating the vibrant variety of colours you'll see at today's ceremony.

Award of Honorary Degree of Doctor of the University

During a distinguished seven-year tenure as Glasgow Caledonian's Chair of Court, Rob Woodward CBE FRSE helped guide the University and championed its widening participation mission.

Rob joined Glasgow Caledonian as Chair in February 2018, retiring from the role in February 2025.

As Chair, he led our Court, the University's governing body. In partnership with our Principal, the Court sets the University's strategic direction, overseeing our student and staff experience, the quality of our learning, teaching and research, and securing the long-term sustainability of the institution.

Rob's role at Glasgow Caledonian blended his devotion to public service with the business expertise developed throughout his extensive executive career.

His career included 11 years as CEO of media group STV plc. Before joining STV, Rob was Commercial Director of Channel 4 and a member of its board, and Managing Director of UBS Warburg. Prior to this he led Deloitte Consulting's European telecom, media and technology business.

In 2018, the UK Government appointed Rob Chair of the Met Office, and, in 2021, a Non-

Executive Director of OneWeb, a global satellite communications operator.

From its establishment in 2014 until 2021, Rob chaired the Scottish Government's Developing the Young Workforce, an initiative supporting youth employment. He is a founding Trustee of the STV Children's Appeal, volunteers as a speaker in schools with Futures for All, and is a Fellow of Chapter Zero, a UK-based project helping integrate climate action into corporate strategy.

During his tenure as Chair of Court at Glasgow Caledonian, Rob was a committed advocate of widening access to education and opportunities for students from a range of backgrounds.

In 2024, his passion for nurturing people and organisations was recognised in the King's Birthday Honours when he was awarded a CBE for services to education and the public sector.

Rob is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Edinburgh and holds a portfolio of Non-executive Chair roles with organisations including marketing analytics provider Ebiquity plc, FTSE 250 housebuilder Vistry plc, listed Norwegian education business Lumi Gruppen and the Swedish digital display-business Zeta, as well as the Scottish-based production business Two Rivers.

Alumni benefits and services

As a graduate of Glasgow Caledonian you are entitled to an exclusive selection of benefits and services including discounts on further study, careers support, library membership and much more.

Ways to get involved

Alumni can give back their time and expertise via our award-winning MINT (Mentoring, Internships, Networking and Talks) programme. This pioneering programme provides help and support to final-year students and new graduates to enhance their employability.

Mentoring

As advocates and ambassadors for our University, many graduates generously give their time to support our students in a variety of different ways, such as volunteering to become an Alumni Mentor to a final-year student.

Internships

You or your company can offer internships/work placements to new graduates. Companies will benefit from the skills and talent of a new graduate to deliver a fixed-term project.

Networking and talks

We organise reunions and events throughout the year on our campuses in Glasgow and London, and internationally, ranging from information receptions, masterclasses, class reunions and more. We can also help you to plan and arrange your own reunions.

Entrepreneurial Hub

Alumni who have started their own business or have an idea they want to explore can benefit from a range of support including access to dedicated space, an exclusive series of workshops and talks, and seed funding by becoming a member or ambassador of our Entrepreneurial Hub.

Share your alumni story

We would love to hear more about the impact that the University has had on your life, either directly - in terms of skills and knowledge - or indirectly, via friends, experiences or chance encounters.

Alumnus of the Year

Are you or do you know a Glasgow Caledonian graduate who has excelled in some way? The GCU Alumnus of the Year Award is an annual honour that celebrates the early career success and contributions of graduates.

Transforming lives

Glasgow Caledonian University Foundation works to support the University's commitment to the Common Good, raising funds to transform lives through education and research.

Thanks to generous donations from alumni and friends, we have raised more than £12 million, providing vital financial assistance, and widening access to a variety of educational and life-changing opportunities.

Loyalty scholarships

A discount of 30% is available for self-funding students who wish to embark on further study at the University, if they received their undergraduate or postgraduate qualification from Glasgow Caledonian.

Our paper is just part of our commitment to becoming carbon neutral by 2040. Glasgow Caledonian is the only Scottish university to hold an EcoCampus Platinum award for our commitment to the environment. We're ranked first in Scotland for sustainability in the People and Planet league table and were Scotland's first Cycle Friendly Campus. We send virtually no waste to landfill, use a combined heat and power system to reduce our energy use, and have invested in greening our campus buildings.
