1 Background

The University's Register of Interests has been established in response to the recommendations of the Nolan Committee on Standards in Public Life and should be viewed as one of the important steps taken by the University to encourage openness and to emphasise the need for the highest standards of honesty and impartiality.

In addition, financial reporting audit standards require inquire of the identity of related parties (including immediate family members) as well as transactions with those parties (separately). The accounting framework places a duty on management and those charged with governance to ensure completeness of related party disclosures.

Specifically, the International Standard on Auditing (UK) 500 places a duty on the external auditor to inquire of management:

- The identity of the entity's related parties, including changes from prior period
- The nature of the relationships between the entity and these related parties; and whether the entity entered into any transaction with these related parties during the period.

2 Principles

The general principle is that individuals should disclose in the Register a list of immediate family members and then separately, any interest, financial or otherwise, which is likely or would, if publicly known, be perceived as being likely to influence the exercise of independent judgement. The Register does not cover all interests, but specifically those relevant or potentially relevant to an individual's role as a Governor of the University or as a member of staff. Individuals are in the best position to know whether any particular interest should be disclosed. Interests of Immediate Family Members should be declared where they have entered into transactions with the University Group. If in doubt, on any issue, advice should be sought from the University Court Secretary or the People Services Casework Team.

3 Process

3.1 Completion of Declaration Form

University Governors, members of the Executive, and senior members of staff (i.e. staff who hold a senior management contract) are expected to complete and return a signed form, including a nil return where appropriate.

In addition, any other members of staff who are in an advisory position, exercising influence on large resource or policy decisions and believe there may be potential conflicts of interest are expected to complete a Declaration Form and follow the process outlined in 3.2 (ii) below.

3.2. Processing of Forms

(i) Governance Department

The Governance Department will request that new Members of Court complete a Register of Interests Declaration form. Once received, the information on the Declaration will be reviewed and entered into the Register of Interests. Individuals should then notify the Head of Governance of any changes in their circumstances.

(ii) People Services

People Services will request that all new members of staff being appointed to Executive and senior management positions complete a Register of Interests Declaration Form which will be sent out with the contract of employment.

The Executive Declarations will be sent to the Governance Department for review and then entered into the Register of Interests.

All other completed declarations will be reviewed by People Services. Where a completed declaration form includes a potential conflict of interest, People Services will forward this to the relevant line manager to review and comment. Where a conflict is identified, the line manager will identify controls to manage the conflict and can obtain advice from the Casework team (within People Services) where required.

People Services will retain copies of completed declaration forms in staff personal files, and will send original forms containing potential conflicts to the Governance Department for inclusion in the Register of Interests.

3.3 Annual check

On an annual basis the Governance Department will write to all Members of Court and Executive Board to confirm if the details held are up-to-date and accurate.

People Services will remind all senior managers annually about the Register of Interests Policy and ask them to submit an updated declaration form in the event that their circumstances have changed.

Failure to send or receive a reminder, however, does not relieve individuals from their obligation to inform either the Governance Department or People Services of any changes.

3.4 Access

The Register of Interests is compiled from the individual declarations and is maintained by the Governance Department. The Register will be available at any time for consultation by members of Court, members of the Executive and administrative staff involved in servicing Committees of Court.

A summary of the Register of Interests for members of the University Court and Executive is published on the University web site and can be accessed at:

<http://www.gcu.ac.uk/theuniversity/universitycourt/registerofinterests/>

Any Declarations, other than the above, held on the Register may be made available if requested under a Freedom of Information request.

Access to the Register is guaranteed to internal and external auditors and officers of the Scottish Higher Education Funding Council.

3.5 Declaration at Meetings

The Register is consulted by the Secretary in advance of meetings of Court and its committees, where contracts or other matters with important consequences are to be considered. The Chair of the meeting will be informed by the Secretary if there is information within the Register which raises the possibility of a conflict of interest.

The Register does not obviate the duty of Governors to declare relevant interests at meetings in accordance with Section 20 of the Court's Standing Orders. Declarations made at meetings will be minuted.

3.6 Discipline

Whilst the Governance Department and People Services will endeavour to identify all individuals likely to be subject to this policy, it is ultimately for individuals to assess whether or not any of their external activities could give rise to conflicts of interest and disclose these interests to either the Governance Department or People Services.

As such, any failure by a member of staff to fulfil their obligations under this policy may be a disciplinary matter and in the case of others, an event justifying removal from the office or position held in the University.
